Learning new software can be frustrating, time consuming and inefficient. When a whole office has to learn how to use Office Automation, even more problems abound. That's why Wilson Publications, publishers of THE CHRONICLE, found a way to make learning how to use Office Automation easier for all involved.

Wilson Videos is a new division of Wilson Publications that develops training courses for the Hewlett-Packard computer user. Wilson Videos uses the combined media of videotape and printed workbooks to provide up-to-date training techniques and individualized instruction at very affordable prices.

One of the first training courses to be released by Wilson Videos includes USING EXECUTIVE MEMOMAKER for the HP 150.

EXECUTIVE MEMOMAKER is Hewlett-Packard's newest word processing release for the HP 150. Spell-checking and graphics are both available through HP's ExecuDesk series for Office Automation.

Wilson Videos' training course for EXECUTIVE MEMOMAKER uses step-by-step procedures interacting with the workbook to teach the student:

- how to get started
- how to use the keyboard and the screens
- how to create a document
- how to save a document
- how to print a document
- how to add a picture to a document using HP's DRAWING GALLERY
- how to use Memospeller to check spelling in a document
- and more.

With Wilson Videos you will save time, money and avoid frustrations. So use the attached order form to get in touch with Wilson Videos' training courses today.
